THURSDAY, JULY 3, 1879.

NO APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE MARSHALS.

No appropriation was provided by Congress for the payment of United States Marshals and their Deputies, and it is important that the people shall know why. The reason is, the partisan majority in that body refused to make the appropriation, except with conditions that would have hampered the President in the discharge of his constitutional duties, and rendered him powerless to enforce the laws which he has sworn to execute. The result is, the Marshals will be unable to discharge the ordinary duties of the courts, and serious embarrassments will follow in the administration of justice. We have an example right here at our own doors. Owing to the delay and failure of Congress to make the proper appropriations, we are to have no United States Court at the regular July term. Marshals can not now make arrests, summon witnesses and jurors, nor perform other services necessary to the Courts.

This, gentle reader, is one of the luxuries of a Democratic administration. If they can not have their own way they obstruct the wheels of government and create all sorts of confusion. If they had been allowed to elect John C. Breckenridge in 1860, they would not have inaugurated secession and rebellion. If they could have repealed the laws which provide for Federal Supervisors and deputy Marshals to keep repeaters, ballot-box stuffers, red shirt brigades, bulldozers from taking possession of the ballot-boxes, the Democrats would have permitted an appropriation to enable the Marshals to perform their ordinary duties. If purjured scoundrels were allowed to fill the boxes with tissue ballots and count votes that were never polled, without being subjected to the oversight of Federal Supervisors, the administration of justice in the Federal Courts would not have been interfered with and the laws of the land would not have been nullified in this way.

THE DUTY ON QUININE.

The reasons offered for repealing the duty on quinine are exceedingly plausible, and are honestly urged by a great many persons, but in the light of facts they become no reasons at all. Like a great many other arguments made on the tariff question, that for the repeal of the duty on quinine is the sophistry of the ordinary demagogue. Originally the demand for a repeal of this duty came from a few importers in New York. Afterwards it was taken up by politicians, who are ever on the alert for a hobby upon which they may ride into office.

It is a fact that quinine has been manufactured in this country by a single firm, that of Powers & Weightman, of Philadelphia. But while they have had a monopoly they have never been extortionate. When yellow fever was raging in the Southern cities, the demand for quinine increased to an unheard-of extent. The importers of quinine at New York insisted upon running up the price, and there is no doubt in the world that had Powers & Weightman consented to it the price would have been run up to ten dollars an ounce. But these gentlemen refused to advance, and sold at the regular price to the wholesale dealers and jobbers, at three dollars and fifty cents per ounce. More than that, they gave orders to their clerks to give the largest latitude to orders from the infected districts. If a man had any sort of commercial standing, his orders were filled, and the result was, they lost thousands of dollars. Their customers, under the circumstances, were of the most uncertain class. Druggists in the infected districts were dying and their customers were dying. Death settled a great many bills, and we undertake to say that the druggists of the South, as a class, will agree that Powers & Weightman acted the part of public benefactors.

The importers are as much monopolists as the manufacturers, and much more dangerous ones as the facts show. Politicians will claim that in repealing the duty on quinine they have done the South a great service, but we undertake to say that a half dozen years hence it will take a very powerful microscope to see it.

The following extract from a private letter written recently by Postmaster General Key to a personal friend in this State, is an expression of good common sense that ought to be heeded by the Southern people:

"The Northern people believe they were successful in our late contest. They assert that this contest was in favor of the Union, and that the National Government is the paramount authority and representative of the elements of National sovereignty, and that the authority of the States is subordinate thereto. As long as slavery existed there was good reason why the slave States should adhere to the doctrine of State Rights. They had a domestic institution which did not belong to all the States, and which largely had to depend on State authority and power to maintain it. But now that institution is gone, and I know of no special prerogatives or institutions belonging to or requiring support that do not belong to all the States alike. A great mistake in the South is the idea some of our people have that the Federal Government is the enemy of the States, and consequently their passions and prejudices are often excited against it. You look around you can find no just reason for this. The benefits conferred on our people by the Federal Government are not considered and appreciated as they should be. Look at the postal system, and the expenditures for river improvements and public buildings, etc. All this costs, in our State, at least, more than the revenues raised in Tennessee by the Federal Government."

Nashville Medical College.

NASHVILLE, June 24, 1879.
MR. EDITOR: I have seen a good deal in the papers recently about the commencement exercises of the University of Tennessee, located in your city, and rejoice in the success of that institution. There is one thing, however, which, if true, very much astonishes me, and many of the intelligent people of this community. I have seen it stated more than once recently that the University at Knoxville had adopted as its Medical Department a frail and feeble institution, located, not in Knoxville, but away over here in Nashville, and heretofore known as the "Nashville Medical College." This latter institution is run by a few ambitious young men without money or brains, the chief stock in trade being a superabundance of brass. It has never attained to any degree of respectability—has just been successful enough to excite contempt—and neither it nor its diplomas are recognized by the medical profession. What Knoxville or the University of Tennessee could expect to gain by association with such an institution is a loss to determine. The advantages of such an arrangement are altogether one-sided. Certainly the "Nashville Medical College" needed something to make it respectable, and we hope it may be greatly improved in this regard under the guardianship of the University of Tennessee. But the University has a huge job before it.

ALPHA.

The Oldest.
When you are troubled with ague and fever, preparatory to or after taking Quinine, there is nothing so good as the genuine Dr. C. McLane's celebrated Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa. None genuine without their signature. Look for it on every wrapper. The market is full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently, but having same pronunciation.

Try them for headache and you will be astonished at the result.

Ladies

Do you want a pure, blooming complexion? If so, a few applications of Hagan's MAGNOLIA BALM will gratify you to your heart's content. It does away with Saltness, Redness, Pimples, Blotches, and all diseases and imperfections of the skin. It overcomes the flushed appearance of heat, fatigue and excitement. It makes a lady of THIRTY appear but TWENTY; and so natural, gradual, and perfect are its effects, that it is impossible to detect its application.

The importers are as much monopolists as the manufacturers, and much more dangerous ones as the facts show. Politicians will claim that in repealing the duty on quinine they have done the South a great service, but we undertake to say that a half dozen years hence it will take a very powerful microscope to see it.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

For all the purposes of a Family Physician, and for curing Constipation, Jaundice, Indigestion, Piles, Stomach, Bile, Headache, Eruptions, Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, and all Diseases arising from Impurity of the Blood.

Are the most effective and congenial purgative ever discovered. They are mild and perfect in their operation, moving the bowels surely and without pain. Although gentle in their operation, they are still the most thorough and searching cathartic medicine that can be employed, cleansing the stomach and bowels, and even the blood. In small doses of one pill a day, they stimulate the digestive organs and promote vigorous health.

AYER'S PILLS have been known for more than a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their virtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstructions within their range can rarely without or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, the safest and best physic for children. By their aperient action they grip much less than the common purgatives, and never give pain when the bowels are not inflamed. They reach the vital fountains of the blood, and strengthen the system by freeing it from the elements of weakness.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, these PILLS may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take; while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.
